

Lambda Boulé Inducts Three Accomplished Archons

Archons Larry James, Clark Kellogg and Steven Francis

On February 19, 2016, members of Lambda Boulé in Columbus, Ohio, inducted three new Archons at Jefferson Country Club. The formal ritual was followed by a banquet with the Archousai, where each inductee offered brief remarks. Lambda Boulé is proud to welcome the following distinguished new Archons:

Archon Steven S. Francis was recently named the chief diversity officer for the city of Columbus after twenty years at Honda of America, Inc., where he last was CDO and manager of corporate affairs at Honda of America Mfg., Inc. He received his undergraduate degree from Morehouse College and his juris doctorate from The Ohio State University's Moritz College of Law. He is active on the boards of the Columbus Urban League, Columbus Clippers Baseball, Inc., and American Heart Association, among others. He and Archousa Carolyn have two sons, Stephen, Jr., and John.

Archon Larry H. James is a partner with Crabbe Brown & James, LLP, in Columbus. He has been on the boards of Kenyon College, the Cleveland Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, and the Lincoln Theater Association. A generous philanthropist, for nearly twenty years he served as president of the Martin Luther King Performing and Cultural Arts Complex. With a bachelor's degree from Wittenberg University, he earned his juris doctorate from Cleveland-Marshall College of Law. He is married to Archousa Donna A. James, an executive consultant, who is on several public company boards. They have two sons.

Archon Clark C. Kellogg, vice president of player relations for the Indiana Pacers, is perhaps best known as a college basketball analyst for CBS Sports. A former NBA player for the Pacers, Archon Kellogg received his bachelor's degree in marketing from The Ohio State University, where he played basketball and earned All-Big Ten Conference and Most Valuable Player honors. He currently is a member of The Ohio State board of trustees. He has been very active in support of local charities, creating the Clark Kellogg Classic to raise funds for charity and kick off the Ohio high school basketball season. He and Archousa Rosy are the proud parents of two sons and a daughter.

*Archon Carl D. Smallwood
Grapter, Lambda Boulé*

Lambda Boulé was chartered on June 21, 1921, in Columbus, Ohio.
